IT was business as usual for Lochness, who was the PSG winner with Kate Attlee.

"He just goes in and delivers the goods," said Kate of Sarah Outwin's gelding. "He's a lovely, dependable chap. I was thrilled with his canter pirouettes this time."

Kate and "Mr C", who is by Limaro, have been competing at PSG for six months and secured a place at the regionals.

Kate also won the medium 69 qualifier with Corbiere, the Holstein gelding she rides for Ann Willetts.

"This was Corbiere's first outing since the winter championships and he was quite hot," she said. "But he went well. He was very soft and smooth."

Kate has high hopes for the Cockpit-sired seven-year-old, who delivered a 70.9% win.

"Corbiere has grown up in the past six months and has taken on board the extra work and pressure," she said. "He tries hard and enjoys his competing. He should be a superb small-tour horse and, if there's the opportunity for grand prix, that would be good."

With his elementary and medium regional championship qualifications sorted, it's Kate's intention to bag a hat-trick with Corbiere by qualifying at advanced medium.
