

KINGSWOOD EC

By Jo Prestwich

KATE Attlee was in fine form at Kingswood (2-3 November), winning both the advanced medium and prix st georges (PSG) with Sarah Outwin's Lochness. It was only the gelding's second PSG — he also won the first.

“He is thriving on the more difficult tests and I think he enjoys having that bit more to do,” said Kate. “He's certainly strengthened up a lot over the past year and he's great fun to have around.”

The horse has qualified for the PSG music and the advanced medium at the winter semis. Kate's long-term plans include small tour next year at premier leagues.